John Davis was the first-born child to John & Jeanette Davis of Detroit, MI. He was educated in the Detroit Public School System. He later attended Wayne State University and graduated with a Bachelor's Degree in Finance and Business Economics. Upon graduating, he started Executive Vending Service. A vending and snack sales company that serviced many companies in the Detroit area with snack machine service.

John's family moved to Atlanta in 2001 and he was immediately hired by Atlanta Public Schools. There he was a Business Career Instructor. John served as co-advisor for the Future Business Leaders Association, from 2003-2005. He also was an Advisor to senior students from 2004-2007. In 2007 he left Atlanta Public Schools to teach computer technology and business at a Technology college. John's love of education inspired him to go back to school to pursue a Masters Degree Human Resources and Business Administration from Central Michigan University.

He has been a member of the National Association of Scholars and has served as a Portfolio Manager for the Acme Stock Investment Club and a member of the National Association of Individual Investors. John is a Residential and commercial real estate specialist that has served the Michigan and the Georgia real estate markets for some years.
