Kemuel A. Kimbrough, Sr., Esq., more commonly known as “Kem,” is an attorney and seasoned safety, security, and management consultant, with over 25 years of experience working with governments across the State of Georgia, as well as in the Atlanta metropolitan area. Kem served as the elected Sheriff of Clayton County, Georgia, during a four-year term from January 1, 2009 to December 31, 2012, capping a comprehensive law enforcement career, including assignments in investigations, patrol, detention operations, and administrative operations.

Kem focuses on governmental relations in his law practice, providing expertise to businesses in their licensing & other interactions with government regulators. Kem provides safety/security plans and training, for businesses & individuals, through his security practice, so as to empower them to operate without fear of harm or disruption. Combining these two skill sets has proven beneficial to a number of business clients operating in/around Atlanta. He has previously served as the Deputy General Counsel for the Association County Commissioners of Georgia, representing the interests of local governments in the State of Georgia. Kem has also served as a part-time faculty member at Clayton State University, teaching courses in law enforcement theory, administration & management, and ethics, as part of the Criminal Justice program. Kem also served as the General Manager of Stoddard’s Range & Guns, where he was instrumental to building its revenue base, expanding its training offerings, and strengthening its support & advocacy in favor of 2nd Amendment rights for people of color.

Kem earned a BA in Political Science from Morehouse College in Atlanta, and a JD from Emory University’s School of Law, also in Atlanta. Kem is a 2005 graduate of Leadership Clayton, a 2005 graduate of the Regional Leadership Institute, and a 2009 graduate of Leadership Georgia; Kem also served as a program chair for the 2010 class of Leadership Georgia. Kem has also served as a member of the Board of Directors of the Clayton Chamber of Commerce, supporting the interests of businesses in his community. Kem remains an active member of the State Bar of Georgia, the National Organization of Black Law Enforcement Executives (NOBLE), and of Kappa Alpha Psi Fraternity, Incorporated.
